Material for September 2022 to the Editor or Deputy Editor by August 8th 2022

From the Editor

I am really happy with the number of articles we have got this month, describing a variety of enjoyable activities that have been going on locally. The first to arrive was from the Scouts - a lively and upbeat account of their recent Fiesta at Woodhouse Park - it brought back memories of my own sons going there, when they were Scouts back in the 80s. Then, as promised, we have got articles, with pictures, of the celebrations held in Old Down and Aust over the Jubilee weekend. Olveston and Tockington WI has sent in an item which outlines their busy and entertaining sessions so far this year. Add to this all the events which are yet to come, and it is a very full edition.

This month's cover, a painting of the green lane behind Elberton by local artist Adrian Holmes, is quite special. Adrian has offered the proceeds from the sale of this painting to Meeting Point, to pass on to a charity or 'worthy cause' of our choice. Find out more about this generous offer on page 9.

News from 1st Olveston Scout Group

It's been a fabulous summer already (with much more to come) and so we thought it timely to update you on what we've been up to and to advertise forthcoming events. The Group is in fine spirits after playing our part in the fabulous Platinum Jubilee Parade at the start of June and it was followed, just a week later, by 'The Big Fiesta', which brought together around 1,000 Beavers, Cubs, Scouts and Explorers and nearly 200 Leaders at Woodhouse Park.

Following two years of cancelled Scouting events, including camps and jamborees, it was a complete delight to be able to attend such a large and vibrant Scouting event. On a warm weekend in June, the Cotswold Edge and South Bristol District Commissioners arranged a weekend at Woodhouse Park Scout Camp, where our young members were able to try a vast range of activities: hovercraft driving, backwoods cooking, air rifle shooting, climbing, abseiling, tree top ropes course, tomahawk /axe throwing, archery, robots, drones, remote control cars, zorbing, quad bikes, Scalextrics, pedal go karts, trampolines, assault course, escape room, crafts, teamwork activities, crazy golf, outdoor chess, water slides, inflatables and laser quest games – which would you choose?

We are really proud of the 1st Olveston Scout Group members - not only did we have very strong attendance from all the sections, but our confident and socially aware youngsters volunteered for additional duties. Olivia Thomas, Stella Askey, Emily Gingell and Thea Tibbatts volunteered to help the District Commissioners conduct a guided tour for a special visitor, the Queen's Representative, Mrs Sheila Wileman MVO, who has been Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of the County and City of Bristol since 1996. Sheila is a great

READY TO TAKE AWAY ON THE DAY

Unit 15 Hemingway Business Centre, Walker Way, Thornbury Bristol BS35 3US Opening Hours: Mon to Sat 9am - 5pm

To finish off a fantastic day, there was a super-sized game of prize bingo - well done to Kai Tibbatts who won a remote-control car and numerous Scout souvenirs, for the last full house of the evening. We were very proud of our Cubs who entered the talent competition at the last-minute, Ellie Young, Megan Thomas and Ivy-Kate Forey entertained everyone with their musical hula-hoop performance. The talent show was very popular, and standards were extremely high, especially from the groups who had planned to enter and had clearly practised ahead of the day. We were also proud of one of our Cubs, Henry Venton, who volunteered to be one of the "Scouts' got Talent" judges. Henry sat alongside the District Commissioners and an Explorer Scout and gave his honest opinion of each act in front of the 1,000-strong audience. Henry's most amusing comment was "well, that performance had me glued to my seat, in fact it's just as well I was glued to my seat as otherwise I would have got up and walked out!" Overall, it was a great day, and our special thanks go to the 1st Olveston Group Leaders who went to the Fiesta: Hannah Cameron, Iain Johnstone, Matt Thomas, Nick Gingell, Andy Hollingdale and James Askey.

With more to look forward to as the Cubs head to the coast for camp in late July and we return for what we hope will be a 'normal' year after the school holidays, we plan to hold our AGM at 18.30 at the Scout Hut on Monday 19th September - parents and local supporters are all invited and welcome. The 1st Olveston Scout Group Committee and leadership team is entirely made up of volunteers, so why not join us? If you would like a rewarding opportunity to support your community and local Scout Group, while having lots of fun, please get in touch with the Group Chair (Ange: 07710 452009). We welcome any relevant experience or skills, but the main attribute we seek is enthusiasm!

Cover Painting to Raise Funds for Marlwood School

Adrian Holmes, whose beautiful painting is on our front cover this month, was interviewed for the May edition of the magazine. In that article he described how he ended up living in Olveston, his love of painting, his studio and the gallery space he is planning. At the end of the interview Adrian made a very generous offer: he would donate the proceeds of the sale of this painting to a charity - or 'worthy cause' – of our choice.

We have liaised with Friends of Marlwood School (FOMS), who suggested that the school's Art Department would be an ideal recipient. In fact, they could make very good use of some additional funds to purchase printing equipment for pupils to use. Our initial thoughts were to run an auction but, for various reasons, this was not going to be straightforward. Adrian has therefore offered to sell the painting through his website, and then donate the proceeds to FOMS.

So, to get a chance to purchase this original painting, and at the same time help Marlwood pupils who are studying Art, visit adrianholmesart.com. In fact, why not visit Adrian's website anyway and see other examples of his work. Adrian's contact details are: ahasales6@gmail.com.

All of us at Meeting Point, and our contacts at Marlwood, are very grateful to Adrian for this very kind and helpful offer. Thank you.

CRUK Tortworth Event

Tortworth Lake is a beautiful setting for Thornbury and District Cancer Research Committee to hold their next fundraising event on Sunday 7th August, from 10am – 4pm.

We will be serving tea, coffee, soft drinks and cake throughout the day, which you are invited to purchase after a leisurely walk around the lake.

Directions: Go up A38 towards Falfield, take the turning for the motorway and head towards Charfield. After the lay-by on the right, take the right lane down a rural track to the end for parking for Tortworth Lake.

Old Down's Platinum Jubilee Street

Party Peter Floyd

Before Olveston's Parade and other events on Friday, Tea on Tockington Green on Saturday and A Coronation Service (with trumpets) at St Mary's Olveston on Sunday, Old Down's celebration came first, on Thursday 2nd of June.

The sun shone and The Down was closed between either end of the Inner Down and life moved onto the street for the day. Bunting was strung from house to house across the street and flags were flown.

Tables were collected and set up in a long line, with white paper tablecloths and added to by a variety of personal furniture so that folk from Old Down and all around - young and old - could enjoy getting to know quite a lot of neighbours. There was a picnic, plus cream teas and a cake competition.

There were many games for the children, some in an adjacent paddock, such as bun bobbing and hopscotch on the road. One of the best was a huge pile of cardboard boxes into which scooters could be driven to dramatic effect. An Auction of Promises took place in The Fox in the evening. At the end of a lively afternoon, toasts were drunk, and the National Anthem was rather erratically, but enthusiastically, sung to loud cheers.

The Life Cycle of a Bumble Bee

Paul Godwin

Did you know that in the UK there are approximately 270 species of bee, of which 25 are bumble bee (Bombus)? Others are solitary bees and the honeybee. Of the bumble bees, there are commoner species which we are much more likely to see in our gardens, including the garden bumble bee, the white-tailed bumble bee, the buff-tailed bumble bee, the common carder bumble bee, the early bumble bee and large red tailed bumble bee, all of which we can see locally.

Hopefully when you read this in August the bumble bees that we have in our countryside and gardens will have plenty of nectar and pollen rich plants to feed on, so their colonies can continue to thrive. Writing this at the beginning of July, bumble bees have had quite a tough time with a lot of wind and rain, so not the perfect start for their summer season. It is important that they are able to fly and continuously feed from spring into summer.

The bee in this photograph is a garden bumble bee and was taken in June 22. It is nesting in a rockery area in our garden and feeding on foxgloves. Differentiation between some bumble bees can be quite difficult; in identifying this bee the key factor was its very long tongue which is very suited to flowers such as foxglove, also the double yellow band on its thorax accompanied by a paler yellow band on its abdomen, and the white tail. It is guite similar to the white-tailed bumble bee, which has a single yellow band on its thorax. It can be seen from March to October

This bumble bee is the common carder, it is another very common visitor to our gardens. This photograph was taken in July 22, feeding on lavender. It is quite 'fluffy' and gingery in appearance with some black striping on its abdomen, it can be found in a wide range of settings for as long as it has flowers to feed on. If you see bumble bees in your garden flying low into rough grass or other hidden areas, it is possible that you will have a nest. Make sure you protect it and keep it undisturbed so the bumble bees can go about their business.

The life cycle begins in spring when temperatures begin to rise, and the queen bumble bee awakes. The queen has been hibernating alone in the soil, using up all the reserves of fat she has stored in her body to survive winter. As you may imagine, when she emerges she is very hungry and needs to access nectar to drink and food from flowers to regain her strength and energy. Once she has regained some strength, she will then begin to search for a nest sight. This is when you may well see bumble bees entering your house or outbuildings, they are not lost, but only looking for a suitable nest site. Of course, you will not want them to nest in your house, so make sure you have open doors and windows and very gently ask them to leave! Please don't go spraying or swatting them. Typically, their preferred nesting site will be in rough grass, an old rodents' nest, under out buildings or bird boxes. Not your living room.

Once a site has been found the queen will then collect pollen for the nest. From this she forms a mound of pollen and a wax which she secretes and then lays her first eggs. She also forms a nectar pot, which she places at the front of her mound. This is important as it is from this she will feed whilst she incubates her eggs. This stage lasts for several days after which grub like larvae emerge. Once the larvae have emerged the queen can leave the nest to collect pollen and nectar which the larvae feed on. After two weeks they have eaten sufficiently, and the larvae then spin a cocoon in which they can develop safely into adult female bees. It is worth noting if you see a queen and she has pollen sacks on her legs, she has already found a nest. A queen can be difficult to identify but in very general terms she will have a larger and longer body. This may give the impression she has short wings. The queen may also appear to have a shiny hairless back whilst the female worker bee will have a hairy or 'fuzzy' back.

It is now early summer, and this first brood of all female worker bees have emerged from their cocoons and begun to carry out work both inside and outside of the nest. Some bees go foraging for pollen and nectar and some do cleaning. The worker bees will carry on bringing pollen and nectar back to the nest now to feed the next batch off larvae. From now the queen will no longer leave the nest. She will remain inside laying more eggs.

The year progresses and it is late summer, and the nest will now produce offspring which are not female workers. They are male bees and the new queens. The males do not collect pollen for the colony, but only feed for themselves and try to mate with the new queens. The males will then leave the nest and not return. The new queens, once mated, also leave the nest and also do not return. They must feed heavily on pollen and nectar to prepare for their long hibernation in the soil, so that they have sufficient fat reserves to survive autumn and winter until they too emerge the following spring. The old queen and her nest, which she so carefully built, will come to its natural end as summer turns into autumn. Only the new queens will survive, and the life cycle of the bumble bee will begin again the next spring.

There is a lot of interesting information available on all bees. For this article I used The Bumble Bee Conservation Trust site, www.bumblebeeconservation.org and also the Wildlife Trust www.wildlifetrusts.org. Both have information on all types of bees.

It is interesting to observe how many different types of bees are visiting your garden. I have been quite surprised, and I am currently trying to identify some of them. Good luck if you try and photograph them, as they just will not stay still for a photograph!

Aust Parish Council

Jubilee Celebrations

The weather forecast was for heavy rain all day on Sunday, 5th June. However, we were lucky our Parish Jubilee event was mainly dry. It wasn't quite right for picnic blankets on the ground, but nevertheless we reckon that more than 150 people from Aust, Elberton and Littleton came along to enjoy the activities in the Boar's Head field at Aust. Most picnics were eaten in the shelter of the big tent.

The afternoon started with a children's fancy dress parade – there were superheroes, a knight in armour, a royal hot air balloon, a starfish and even a little Queen Elizabeth. Everyone received a prize, but first prize went to hot air balloon Natalia Lacson (aged 7) from Littleton, pictured here in her costume.

A children's adventure party team from Bristol kept the children immersed in their interactive superhero adventure for more than an hour.

The 'It's a Knockout' challenge was highly competitive. Aust set an early lead with their convincing win in the tug of war. After that the supporters showed both their approval and disapproval of the judges' decisions as the teams battled in: wellie throwing, relay racing under a black plastic sheet, plank walking and finally cabbage dribbling. Slowly and surely Elberton's crack team of six showed their prowess and gathered momentum on the scoreboard to romp home with the cup. Thank you to the comperes, those unpopular judges, the team captains, participants, and supporters from all the villages for making the event so successful.

The Boar's Head was very generous in letting us hold the event in their field, a big thank you to the team there. The biggest thanks, of course, go to the amazing team of volunteers who worked so hard to bring the event together and put on what we hope was a memorable day for our community.

People Can't Work Without Tools!

Thornbury Rotary Club, along with other Rotary clubs, has been supporting "Tools for Self Reliance" for many years. It is a UK based charity working to help relieve poverty in Africa by renovating and sending redundant tools to them. They then work with local African organisations to deliver a programme of tools and training that brings about effective and sustainable change for carpenters, builders, blacksmiths, artisans and their communities. Primary countries they work in are Ghana, Malawi, Sierra Leone, Uganda and Zambia.

So, if you have tools you no longer require, please contact
Rotarian

Robin Cole-Morgan on 01454 414281

He will arrange to pick up the tools and take them away at a time that suits everyone.

What you could declutter and donate:

Garden Tools and Workshop Tools (for example, spanners, screwdrivers, chisels, planes, and hammers). They can be hand tools or powered.

Thank you!

Next Council Meeting

The Parish Council takes a break from meetings in August. Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday 13th September at 7:30pm in Elberton village hall. Councillors, or I, can still be contacted about any local issues over the holidays, though response times may be slightly longer than normal.

Letting it Go for Nature

Q: What happens when somewhere which has always been just grass, has a spring cut in March, but is then left to grow for a couple of months?

A: Bee orchids and pyramidal orchids!

Residents may have noticed that some grassed areas around our villages have been left uncut for some time now. It's part of a plan to support butterflies, bees and other insects and to help nature flourish. With this in mind, in Olveston Parish Council's Local Nature Action Plan, we have started to establish some meadow areas in the Vicarage Lane Playing Field and at the Old Down Sports Area.

We have started this with some gentle encouragement by seeding non-grass species. It may take some time for them to develop, but mostly we will be reducing grass cutting in these areas and letting nature get on with what it

Angela Green

The WI has had a very successful first half of the year, with plenty of enthusiasm and numbers that are still increasing. We've had some excellent talks, starting with one from Steve Webb about being an MP and finishing, last month, with an enormously positive one from our local wildlife expert, Paul Godwin. Along the way we've learnt to make felt out of strands of wool (rather wet and messy, but it works like magic); we've been entertained with song and rhyme; we heard from Gill Leaper about the inspiring work being done in Malawi by her daughter Alice's charity, Butterfly Space; and we've solved a murder mystery. We've had a couple of trips out and held a tea party in one of Olveston's most beautiful gardens. So, if companionship, with varied entertainment, appeals to you, do come and try us out when we start up again in September.

Details will be in Meeting Point, or you can always ring me on 615222 for more information.

Olveston Parish Council

Queen Alexandra Memorial Pavilion

There are big plans for the refurbishment of the Queen Alexandra Memorial Pavilion at Old Down. The architects have now produced definitive plans, and these will be exhibited in the Parish Hall on Wednesday 3rd August between 4pm and 8pm. The football club holds the lease of the building from the Parish Council and intends the redevelopment to be all inclusive and intend to provide meeting rooms for any organisation which might have such a need, better kitchen and bar facilities, as well as improved changing rooms. Part of the roadway will be altered close to the Bowls Club so as to meet highway regulations. This will entail the loss of perhaps 4 parking spaces but will enable 2 disabled spaces to be provided. Do please come along on the 3rd and meet the team and have your say in the proposals.

Jubilee Business

We still have a few of the commemorative medals for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee left over. It was always the Council's intention to give a medal to everyone who took part, but in the event some people did not receive theirs. So please contact Martin Gibson on 07990970725 if you missed out.

The Jubilee Pudding Competition was won by Olveston resident, Barbara Maksymiw, with her 'Vanilla Jubilee Cheesecake with Red Berry Coulis'. We are hoping to catch up with Barbara soon and get her to share the recipe!

Tockington Harvest Fayre 2022

Maggie Spooner

This year our annual Harvest Fayre will be held on Saturday 24th September at 2.00pm. As usual there will be delicious cream teas and home-made cakes, a children's fancy dress parade, performances from ROKH dance school, Junior Fascinating Rhythm (youth choir) and a display from Olveston Brownies. Stalls to browse and tempt you will include cakes, fresh garden produce, plants, books, 'As New' items. There will also be games and skill stalls for everyone, young and old!

Up the Down!

Severn Vale Flower Club

Our Members' Day with competitions was held on Monday 12th June at St Mary's Church Hall, Thornbury. This was our first Members' Day since the closure of the Armstrong Hall. We were not sure how it would all work out, considering it was a smaller hall and we were not sure many entries we would have for each competition. However, after members of our committee were coerced into putting in at least one arrangement each, we had seventy entries, including photographs. This proved to be an immense success with many positive comments.

Members judged the photos by putting a few coins against the ones they liked best with the money going to our chosen charity. Kathleen Taylor judged the competitions which she found challenging as there were so many entries to choose from. Margaret Orchard won the Kay Evans trophy. Sue Williams won the Carmen Pitts award. Susie Rees won the Nancy Robbins award and the Kathleen Hawkins award. Christine. Mullins won the award for a flower in a vase, which was a lovely crimson clematis. Members had a chance to look at the entries before enjoying nibbles and a cake, kindly made by June Lyons.

On Monday afternoon 11th July at Eastwood Park, we had an afternoon tea with a small demonstration for members and friends. If you are interested in coming to any of our afternoon demonstrations the next one is on Monday afternoon August 8th. when Margaret Heal will be our demonstrator. Thornbury Area Youth Music

Open Morning Saturday 10th September 9.30am to 11.30am Manorbrook School, Thornbury, BS35 1JU

Thornbury Area Youth Music (TAYM) is a charity run by parents for children who want to learn a musical instrument in a fun and supportive environment. TAYM runs term-time Saturday morning music classes at Manorbrook School, Thornbury. There are instrumental groups, classes, choir, theory and orchestras for musicians of all abilities aged four and above. TAYM is a charity (Reg. no: 1075032). Our classes are affordable. Instruments can be hired for a small fee.

Come along to our Open Morning to find out about our classes and orchestras. Your child can try a variety of instruments: cello, clarinet, trombone, saxophone, violin, cornet, trumpet and more! If your child already plays an instrument, they are welcome to join TAYM classes.

Thornbury Choral Society

It was with a mixture of excitement and apprehension that Thornbury Choral Society gathered on stage at the Castle School on May14th, for their first public performance since the beginning of the pandemic. Would we be up to the challenge? Would there be an audience?

In the event, all our fears were groundless. Under the leadership of our conductor, Steven Kings, the choir sang with great enthusiasm, and we had an audience of nearly a 100. It was so good to be involved in live music making again!

However, like many organisations our numbers have diminished since 2019 so we are actively recruiting new singers in all four voice parts. Maybe you sang at school or at university, or you are new to the area and want to meet new people. The Choral Society could be just the place for you. Just come along and see what we do. We do not hold auditions.

We meet on a Monday evening at 8.00pm in the United Reform Church. We perform two concerts a year, and our next concert will be in November when we have a really interesting programme. We shall be singing Karl Jenkins' The Armed Man and Misa Criolla by Ariel Ramirez.

We restart the autumn term on Monday September 5th with the AGM starting at 7.30pm and the following week on the 12th September we have a Welcome Meeting, with light refreshments starting at 7.30pm, followed by our rehearsal at 8.00pm.

Do come along to meet us, we would be delighted to see you.

Savoury Courgette Cake

This recipe first appeared in Meeting Point back in the summer of 2017, in one of Chris Bolton's 'Veggie Matters' articles. It is worth a repeat this month as courgettes are exploding into life in veg gardens and allotments all over the place - and it is always a good idea to have recipes to help with a glut!

Recipe

Take 2 courgettes and slice them thinly, then fry them with a little olive oil (10 to 15 mins). Dry them with kitchen paper. Mix 150gm plain flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder and 3 eggs, and then add 1fl.oz of sunflower oil, and 4fl oz. of warm milk. Mix well, then add 200gms of grated gruyere. Check the seasoning and then add the courgettes to the mix.

To this mixture you can also, if you wish, add a handful of chopped bacon, a chopped onion, a few chopped black olives, a red pepper, or any other combination that you like! (Cook these ingredients with the courgettes).

Mix well, turn into a greased loaf tin and cook in a preheated oven at 200°C for 30-40 mins until golden.

Then enjoy with salad or as a nibble with a glass of chilled white wine, as the French do!

Thornbury Memory Café

The café has now been successfully running for over 10 years and continues to be open on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month (NB: except in August) from 10.15am until 11.45 am. The venue is the Methodist Church Hall, just behind the Church on the High Street, Thornbury. Parking is very easy just outside for Blue Badge holders, or in the nearby car park.

We have many regular visitors who come every fortnight, but we also have many newcomers who rapidly become regulars. Visitors with memory problems should come along with their carers, such as husbands, wives or others. New visitors will be made very welcome, so come along and give it a try. We are not a clinic, but we find that carers also benefit from the chance to chat to others in similar situations.

The setting is a normal café style, with our volunteers serving coffee, tea, soft drinks, biscuits and fruit, for which there is no charge, although we do have a voluntary contribution box. There is a lot of chatter and constant exchange of thoughts and ideas, and there is either entertainment or a visit from a speaker on a topical matter of interest.

Contact Sue Rowley on 01454 412941 or Louise Wright on 01454 260371 for further information, or just turn up, and we are sure you will enjoy the experience and the fun.

OLVESTON PARISH TWINNING ASSOCIATION

Olveston Parish Twinning Association (OPTA) has been active for over 25 years. The basic arrangement of twinning visits to and from our friends in the Breton village of Bréhan continued smoothly until the interruption of the pandemic and restrictions on travel. The OPTA committee ran fund-raising events which, over the years, raised the necessary resources to host our French visitors and – at the same time – provided enjoyable evenings for local people.

Times change, however, and now we find ourselves in urgent need of a new committee to run OPTA if the twinning going to survive into the future. The existing committee members have, between them, served many years and for

Yours Faithfully

Revd. Neil Mobbs
Oasis Church

How do we start and finish our day?

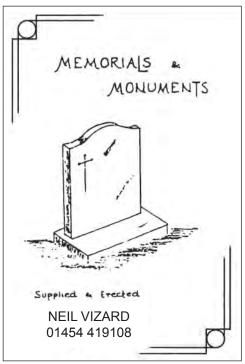

I find in Psalm 92, verses 1 and 2, the words "It is good to give thanks to the Lord ...to declare your loving kindness in the morning and your faithfulness at night" So what is our first thought as we wake up? Our God is loving and kind in His relationship with us. These qualities are part of His character. In the evening as we go to bed possibly reviewing the day, we consider his faithfulness, His loyalty to us.

The Psalm speaks a lot about His deeds or works in our lives. Material blessings, spiritual blessings, are given to us by God. So, as we begin and end our day, do we recall who He is and has done for us? R.T.Kendall, a famous minister and bible teacher, speaks of how he ends his day by giving thanks to God for three things that have occurred in the day, evidence of His love, kindness and faithfulness.

We are encouraged by Paul in his letters, in the New Testament, to be thankful as an attitude. If we are thankful or grateful to God on a daily basis, it affects our relationship with people, so we appreciate one another for what they mean to us or do for us. It has been stated by the Mayo Clinic in America, through a survey, that people who are appreciative or grateful, live longer! May we have an attitude of gratitude. God bless you!
